Captain Lance Valentine began "Walleye 101" in 1998 and has since grown it into a trusted source for information, education, and tackle. Lance takes educating anglers seriously, and due to that, has gained a large following of recreational and tournament fishermen who seek his advice on presentations, equipment usage and products. As a full-time guide and fishing educator, he is always learning and passing that knowledge on to his audience.

Valentine is recognized as an expert on fishing the Detroit River, Saginaw Bay, Lake Erie and on using Lowrance electronics. His "Walleye 101" and "TeachinFishin" brands have become well known by providing education, information and products to an industry that is constantly changing, while maintaining a level of integrity that is unsurpassed in the fishing industry.

Lance truly feels God's presence in his business and knows that what he is doing is more important than fishing. Valentine's mission statement is simple; "to help others, regardless of skill level, get more enjoyment from fishing by providing easy to understand, up to date and proven information, education and products".
